Franklin Communications Wins its 1000th Print Award

ORLANDO, FLORIDA - August 31, 2010 - For the past 12 years in a row Franklin Communications has won more awards than any other printer in the state. This year it won 32 “Best of Category” awards, 12 “Awards of Excellence” and 18 “Judges Awards” in the Printing Association of Florida (PAF) awards competition. These 62 awards brings Franklin Communications awards to over 1,000 since the year 2000. This total also includes national awards from the Printing Industries of America and Gold Ink Awards. The “Golden Flamingo” was awarded to Franklin for the 6th year in a row given to the company with the most first place awards in print and design regardless of company size.

“So many award winning projects year after year clearly shows the great pride and teamwork that exists amongst all the Franklin employees, management and owners. Meeting our customers highest quality print and design standards differentiates Franklin Communications by making us the most winning graphic communication company in the state of Florida” said Peter Dunne, president. Franklin’s winning customers will celebrate the honors at the annual Franklin Awards Night event, hosted in a Marlins suite during a Marlins game. “Our customers really enjoy this catered affair where they get to share time with all the staff that helps make their print projects prize winners. This event allows them to be entertained by one of our other prestigious customers, the Marlins,” said Peter Dunne.

Established in 1921, Franklin Communications will be celebrating its 90th year in the print industry in just a few months. Peter Dunne commented, “Ninety years in the industry has allowed us to participate, with expertise, in all the growing print trends. Keeping up with the latest print and marketing demands has allowed us to show our customers the versatility and talents at Franklin Communications.”
